So, Joe, it's been crazy today. But, do we just go ahead and add these subscriptions to people's dbs indiscriminately? I am making an assumption that since they know the project ID and names, it's okay, but then I'm thinking, how do I know that it's okay with the owners of the data? Do you think this is something I should verify or am I overthinking?

On an aside, Jeff Mosal sent a spreadsheet and wanted us to fill out subscription login information for the gold king mine subs. I told him to contact the Delgado and nattis for the information like we usually do.
